Mass Said Under the Protection of Police.

Excitement in a Chicago Church Stormed by About Two Hundred Angry Poles.

LONG-STANDING TROUBLE

CHICAGO, March 15.—About 200 angry Poles, men and women, stormed St. Hedwig's Catholic Church at North Hoyne, between Madison and Kosciuszko streets, at 6:30 this morning. Five policemen who were on guard were cowed by the mob, but on the arrival of reinforcements the rioters were driven off.

There has been trouble in St. Hedwig's parish for many weeks. Father Barsinski was driven out three weeks ago, and at the time the police were called upon to protect the church property.

Father Barsinski belonged to the order of Resurrectionist Fathers, and it was to this that objection was made for some reason. Archbishop Feehan sent Father Saydzynski to the church, but when it was discovered that he, too, was a Resurrectionist, he was rejected.

The church was closed and locked for two weeks, and last night the parishioners gathered to open a reopening of the edifice. Early today the Poles began pouring into the church hall, and when about two hundred had gathered, the mob broke and fled from the church. Four abreast, the excited, chattering body of men and women marched, denouncing the priest and declaring that they would prevent him from serving mass.

A constable had telephoned for the police as soon as the mob appeared, and in five minutes the police were on the scene. The officers were driven up to the church on the run.

The officers were then given for the police to draw their revolvers and use them if necessary to clear the church. The angry crowd stood for a moment, when forty policemen with glittering guns in their hands marched into the church.

Capt. Rohm ordered the intruders to leave the church, and some of the Polish officers informed the mob that they had no business in the church. The mob then broke and fled from the church. The police arrested Josie Lowandowski and her son Anton, who seemed to be ringleaders, and search is being made for the others.

After the church was cleared the priest celebrated mass under guard of a detail of police.

SADIE FIRED THE SHOT.

TRIAL OF THE ROBINSONS FOR THE MURDER OF GIBBS.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 15.—Ex-Deputy Abrams of Cleveland today in the Gibbs murder trial testified that Robinson told him about his starting out with Sadie to commit highway robbery on Delaware street. Attorney Hardesty asked objection, and argued that if the defendant had started out to commit robbery, robbery, and not murder, was premeditated, and so the indictment for murder in the first degree was defective.

It was argued that it was not necessary for the indictment to show that murder was premeditated when the Robinsons started on their expedition.

The emigration movement to Liberia has been on foot for several years in the south. Back of the movement is the international Society for the Emigration of Negroes. One of the leading bullion brokers in this city, speaking of the recent advance in silver, said today to the Associated Press that the price of silver has advanced to speculative buying in London, which market governs the price of the metal here.

The chief factor in the rise was the export of silver from the United States to London, and also to the market being heavy of supplies, and to the fact that silver is not selling. Silver closed quiet at 28 1/2.

A collection of antiquities was formerly kept here, but they have been removed, and it is now uninhabited except for the spirit of gloom that abides in these places of old. The witch house, so called, which dates back to 1835, together with the first church built in America, 1634, are historical landmarks. The former is a treasured relic from the hand of time. Its walls are gray with age, and its dull coloring is thrown into greater contrast by the modern drug store which has been built adjacent to it.

Senator Lexow asked that the bills be made a special order for next Thursday, which was agreed to.

A Georgia Colonization Scheme.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 15.—One year ago P. H. Fitzgerald, a wealthy citizen here, started a colonization scheme which had in view providing cheap homes in Georgia for old soldiers. The idea was to buy 100,000 acres of land for the site and to build a colony of 10,000 soldiers to start the colony. The scheme had the protection of Governor Northern of Georgia, and attracted general attention among old soldiers.

It is now announced here that over 10,000 members have been enrolled in the books of the company, which is to be a sort of co-operative army.

The members average about three shares apiece, so that up to date, with shares at $100, the company has a stock of $3,000,000. No person is entitled to more than ten shares. Nebraska leads in membership; Indiana is a close second with 4,000 members.

IN OLD SALEM TOWN

Relics From the Days of Puritanical Superstition.

A Washington Woman's Letter About the City and its Surroundings.

Correspondence of The Evening Star.

TO SPEAK OF Salem brings swiftly to mind the dark days of witchcraft, when that terrible delusion hung like a pall over this rigid Puritanical community, and brought nineteen innocent persons to their fate on "Gallows Hill." The city still preserves these memorials of blind justice, and the "witch house" is pointed out to all newcomers. The witch house, so called, which dates back to 1835, together with the first church built in America, 1634, are historical landmarks. The former is a treasured relic from the hand of time. Its walls are gray with age, and its dull coloring is thrown into greater contrast by the modern drug store which has been built adjacent to it.

He made a declaration by stating that he spoke advisedly, and he further charged that city employees by illegitimate methods had made fortunes from the municipal government.

The plan of municipal reorganization proposed by the Boston municipal league was also discussed, and the council and the board of aldermen to twenty-four.

TO PROTECT THE PRESS.

A Bill in the Hands of Arizona's Governor.

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 15.—The bill curtailing the power of the courts to punish for contempt is now in the hands of the governor. A committee from the Arizona Press Association has waited on the governor urging its approval. The wide departure of this bill from all laws on this subject and the great interest manifested by the press, the courts and the press excites universal interest. The opposition of the bar and the pressure of the legislature to show cause why he should not be removed.

HIS LOSS INCALCULABLE.

What Electrician Tesla Says—Comments From Edison.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Nikola Tesla, the electrician whose work rooms are apparently being destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning, was at work again last night. When asked if he could give an estimate of his loss, Mr. Tesla said: "No, that would be very difficult. In a case like this the loss cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. If it could be I might say that a million of dollars would not pay for what has been lost."

Mr. Tesla said that his electrical apparatus with which he hoped to improve the electric light had been destroyed, and that he had lost a great deal of his completed inventions, of which he did not care to speak.

All my friends have been very kind to me, and I have received a letter from Mr. Edison offering me the use of his workshops in which to continue my experiments. I am very grateful for his kindness and consideration. I do not think, however, that I will accept the offer. I shall probably within a short time secure other quarters, and I will begin my work anew. I have not as yet recovered sufficiently from the shock of my loss to make any definite plans.
